CELEBRATION ON GLORIOUS FOURTH

A safe and sane celebration of Independence Day will be held on Monday, July 5, by the Knights of Columbus on the lawn fronting on the city hall. Prominent speakers will take part and the children of the city schools will sing the national songs accompanied by Muller's full band. It is the especial wish of the Knights of Columbus to instill thoughts of patriotism in young and old alike, therefore let there be a great throng at the meeting. All the city and county officials have been invited to be present, and all the organizations also have been invited and reservations will be made for them on the grounds. The exercises will be of inspiring nature and will be of benefit to all interested in good citizenship. A special feature will be the personal invitation to all recently naturalized citizens of the county to take part in the exercises and show love for the country of their adoption and the flag they have accepted.

Supreme Court Justice G. D. B. Hasbrouck and Mayor Palmer Canfield will be the speakers. The Hon. W. H. Grogan will act as chairman of the meeting. The Rev. Charles F. Kennedy, rector of St. John's Church, will deliver the invocation, and the Rev. John H. Brady, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, will pronounce the benediction. Robert Howard will read the Declaration of Independence.

Trolley cars will be provided to bring the children who sing the national airs to the city hall grounds. The downtown children will meet at the corner of Broadway and McEntee street, and the uptown children at the corner of Fair and Pearl streets. Each child will be supplied with a flag and a copy of the songs to be used.

It is hoped that our citizens will attend the meeting in large numbers.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1334.—A Pretty Summer Frock. Costume For Misses and Small Women.

Of most engaging simplicity is this attractive style, with vest and panel portions. The kimono sleeve and side portions of the waist are cut in one. The round neck is youthful and becoming. For linen, line, batiste, lawn, dimity, gingham, or chambray, this style will be found excellent. It is equally desirable for serge, taffeta, poplin, voile, grenadine, challie or repp. It will lend itself nicely to embroidered materials or to combinations. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 yards, and requires 5 yards of 44 inch material for an 18 year size. The skirt measures about 3 1/2 yards at the lower edge.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Roundout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

MILTON.

Milton, June 26.—Miss Edith Thiells, who was under treatment at Dr. Sadler's Sanitarium in Foughkeeps, has been home for over a week.

On Sunday afternoon C. M. Woolsey, C. S. Northrip, C. L. Northrip and J. Booth motored in Woolsey's car to Clintondale, Highland, Rossville, Modena, Cronermer's Valley to Newburgh and back home.

On Sunday R. W. Hallock was taken sick and on Monday Dr. Preston summoned Dr. Townsend of Newburgh, who advised an operation at once. Consequently on Monday afternoon Clifford Hallock acted as chauffeur and with Mr. Hallock's new car, which is very comfortable, Dr. Preston and Mrs. Hallock carried him to St. Luke's Hospital, where an operation was performed that evening. They found appendicitis in a very bad form. At this writing Mr. Hallock is doing as well as can be expected, and rested well Wednesday night.

On Thursday of this week Miss Adelaide Hallock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hallock was graduated from Skidmore School of Arts, Saratoga Springs, where Mrs. S. B. Taber, grandmother of Miss Adelaide, and Mrs. Grace T. Rushmore of Plainfield, N. J., have come to witness their granddaughter and niece graduate.

Miss Florence Hallock of Batavia school has come home for the summer vacation. At the M. E. paragon Tuesday evening Leonard W. Freer and Myrtle L. Ferguson, both of Milton, were united in marriage by the Rev. John S. Lull.

On Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock Frederick Ronk and Beatrice E. Rhoades of Plattskill were united in marriage at the home of William Rhoades, father of the bride, the Rev. J. S. Lull officiated. A bountiful wedding supper was served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Ronk left on the afternoon train for a week's wedding trip. The ceremony was performed in the open air under an arch and wedding bell. Many useful and beautiful gifts were received and a large number of guests gathered to witness the ceremony and to wish the newly married couple much joy and happiness.

SOUTH ROUNDOUT.

South Roundout, June 26.—Rev. Henry Smith will be present and preach at the morning service instead of the evening, as announced last Sunday.

Our pastor gave us two excellent sermons last Sunday. The theme of the morning sermon was "Investments," text Isaiah 55:2, "Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread." Evening theme, "Meeting God," Amos 4:12, "Prepare to meet thy God, Oh Israel."

Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh and daughter, Gertrude, and Miss Nora Pendergast of Kingston spent Sunday with Mrs. James Lauler on Connelly Heights.

Mrs. Frank O'Neill and little Edward McKinley are spending a few days in Hoboken, N. J.

Christie Becker and Anna Mains spent Friday with Mamie Kyer at Kingston.

Mrs. LeGrand Becker of Hoffman street, Kingston, visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Liberty Hyde, on Friday.

The Misses Annie and Katherine Cole, who have been spending a couple of weeks here, have returned to their home at Haines Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Hotelling and daughter, Ruth, and son, Donald, of Briarcliff Manor, are spending a couple of days with Mr. Hotelling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hotelling, Sr., on Front street.

Mrs. Nicholas, Mrs. John Cordts and daughter, Florence, of Roundout, were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Klug on Thursday in honor of Mr. Klug's 52nd birthday.

Mrs. Ahlers and Mrs. Chesse and daughter, Martha, of Roundout, and Miss McCumber of New Salem spent Thursday with Mrs. John Stingle on Second street.

Mrs. Edwin Dunn is spending this week with relatives in New York.

Mrs. Van Ostrand of Brooklyn is a guest of her sister, Mrs. David Blodgett on Second street.

Marjory Blodgett, who has been spending the past three weeks with relatives in Brooklyn, has returned to her home on Second street.

—Mr. Squegee

The people who built the Pyramids did a job that has never been beaten. From foundations to cap-stones they were constructed to endure.

There was no overweight anywhere and no part was too weak or too light to match the other parts. Hence the lasting qualities of the Pyramids. Diamond Tires are built, as the Pyramids were built, to last.

Every part is made to wear just as long as the other parts endure.

Consequently Diamond Squegee Tread Tires made a record in 1914 that has never been matched. Send for our book of letters from dealers who sold Diamond Tires in 1914.

It tells how more than 99 out of every 100 of the more than half a million Diamond Tires sold last year gave maximum service at minimum mileage cost. It is yours for the asking.

THE ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS; WHO AND WHAT THEY ARE

Philanthropic, Humanitarian and Civic Work of Those Who Oppose Woman Suffrage.

With the delicate courtesy and admirable self restraint which perhaps foreshadow the political woman, the anti-suffrage leaders have been described by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National Woman Suffrage Association, as "protectors of the liquor interests, food dopers, child labor explorers, white slavers and political bosses," and she has stated that they "only serve the purpose that, by holding out their skirts, they act as a screen for the liquor traffic, the gambler, the vicious and those interested in dance halls and places where young girls are ruined."

With such an indictment it is certainly important to look into the activities of some of the women whom Dr. Shaw so describes. Take the New York State Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage and the following are found among the officers and active workers:

Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, president New York State Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage; spends part of each year in Connecticut, with which state her family has always been closely associated; four years ago was appointed by Governor Baldwin a member of the industrial commission to investigate the condition of wage earning women and children in that state. The fifty-four hour law for women in Connecticut passed by the legislature in 1913 was one of the bills introduced by that commission.
Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, president National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage; president Federation of Day Nurseries; vice president Day Nurseries of New York city (ninety-five nurseries); vice president Legal Aid Society; director Public Education Association; president for ten years and now honorary president New York Branch Needlework Guild; chairman of Philan-

Mrs. Clarence Beebe, for twenty-five years president Central Branch Young Women's Christian Association.
Mrs. Barclay Hazard, president board of managers Florence Crittenton Mission; vice president Woman's Municipal League; member committee of fourteen of vice commission.

Mrs. Benjamin Nicoll, vice president Consumers' League of New York city.
Mrs. George C. Riggs (Kate Douglas Wiggin), founder free kindergarten system in California; first vice president Kindergarten Association of New York.

Mrs. William Kimbrell Draper, secretary New York Red Cross.
Mrs. Alfred Meyer, better known as Annie Nathan Meyer, chief founder of Barnard College and trustee since its beginning, for years trustee of Free Public Library, playwright and one of the organizers of the Drama League.
Mrs. Charles H. Denison, widely known in woman's club work as former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, active in So-salis and head of the firm of Denison & Silvers.
Miss Eleanor Cuyler, treasurer Sunnyside Day Nursery.
Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn, head of New York Cooking School and active in many organizations for improving condition of wage earners.

Miss Maria Love of Buffalo founded Fitch Creche and is the most widely known woman in Buffalo in charitable and philanthropic work.

Miss Anna C. Maxwell, superintendent Presbyterian Hospital School For Nursing, member National Conference of Charities and Correction, active in many nurses' organizations.

Miss Annie Jennings, known throughout the United States as one of the most active workers in philanthropic and charitable affairs, member Central Council Charity Organization Society and on many boards.

Mrs. Henry A. Stimson, president Woman's Municipal League.
Mrs. Henry Seligman, director and chairman woman's court committee, Woman's Municipal League.

Mrs. Everett F. Wheeler, trustee Union Settlement, vice president Woman's Auxiliary Civil Service Reform League, vice president East Side Settlement House.

Mrs. Edward S. Hewitt, former president Woman's Municipal League, vice president Society For Improving Condition of the Blind.

Mrs. John A. Church, director St. Luke's Home For Aged Women, active in Manhattan Trade School For Girls.

Miss Eleanor G. Hewitt, member of three committees Cooper Union, director Cooper Union Museum For Arts and Decorations, member board of managers New York Cooking School.

These are only a few of the active workers in New York, and the list could be extended almost indefinitely when we begin to look into the anti-suffrage organizations in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and other states.

In the national field we must include Miss Mabel Boardman of Washington, member of the executive committee, and chairman National Relief Board of the American Red Cross; Miss Minnie Bronson of Iowa, for years a special investigator for the United States Bureau of Labor; Miss Emily P. Bissell of Delaware, secretary of the Anti-Tuberculosis Commission; Mrs. William Lowell Putnam of Boston, chairman of the Department of Public Health of the Woman's Municipal League and a national leader in the campaign for pure milk.

Woman Suffrage a Distinct Loss.
In the recent election in Chicago the women's votes were divided between the candidates in about the same proportion as the men's. Thousands of women voted, but the political leaders are unanimous in their statements that the results would have been the same if the women had stayed away from the polls. It was Octavia Hill, the great English philanthropist and housing expert, who said of woman suffrage, "You can double the number of voters and achieve nothing, but you have used up in achieving nothing whatever thought and time your women voters have given to such duties." You have also used up a good many thousand dollars in election expenses, which necessitates a higher tax on the poor man's house.

Women and War.
Apropos of the suffrage claim that if European women had had the vote there would have been no war and that the influence of women can always be counted on the side of peace it is interesting to recall that the great Krupp gun works are jointly owned by Bertha and Barbara Krupp and that the actual management of the works is in the hands of Bertha Krupp and that it was the guns called the "Betsy Berthas" that destroyed Liege and ruined the cathedral of Rheims.

"Heaven, Home and Mother."
The anti-suffragists have been designated by the president of the National Woman Suffrage association as the "heaven, home and mother party."
If you like heaven, home and mother and are going that way join the anti-suffragists.
If you are going the other way join the suffragists.

Why Italy Loves the Army.
The Italian soldier is not only severely drilled, but he is also expected to perform a good many duties not usually regarded as falling within the requirements of military service. It is considered incumbent on every man wearing the king's uniform to give aid whenever and wherever it may be needed for the protection of life and property, against crime, accident or disaster, and whenever a calamity befalls—such as an earthquake—the first move is always to send troops to assist the suffering. That is one reason why Italy regards her army with affection as her protector at home as well as her defender against foreign aggression.—London Chronicle.

ORPHANS IN HOLLAND.

In Some Cities They Are Dressed in Most Grotesque Fashion.

The Dutch differ from the Chinese in announcing to the world the birth of children only in the article displayed. The Chinamen hang a piece of ginger over the main entrance to the house, while the Hollanders indicate the event by a piece of lace, combining with the lace a pink background for a boy and tinsel for a girl.

The orphans of some of the cities of Holland are quite conspicuous, and especially so when seen on the streets of Amsterdam, dressed in what might be termed half and half clothing. The east half of a boy's coat, including the sleeve, is red, while the west half is black. The dresses of girls are divided in a similar manner, but are topped off by becoming white caps, which make the young misses look very neat and attractive.

This singular style of dress is said to have been adopted to enable the railroad officials, as well as the authorities, to keep track of them, says the National Geographical Magazine. As the orphan asylums of Holland have the control of children committed to them until they are of age, the more mature of the unfortunates (wearing these odd garments in public) present a very striking appearance.

MISS GERTRUDE BARNUM.
WILL ENGINEER BIG STRIKE OF GARMENT WORKERS.

New York, June 26.—Miss Gertrude Barnum, after a year's work with the Federal Commission on Industrial Relations, is back in this city ready to organize the huge strike of 50,000 garment workers, which now seems imminent. Miss Barnum is one of the chief organizers in the various garment workers' unions and in the past several years has engineered some serious strikes, in every case the unions being successful. Interviewed regarding the threatened strike she said that the manufacturers themselves were to blame for the conditions which brought about a desire for the strike on the part of the workers. She said: "The present attitude of the Manufacturers' Progressive Association is due absolutely to the irresponsible leadership of that organization. Had responsible men remained at the head of the organization there would be no need for a strike." She charges that the manufacturers are not living up to a protocol sign some five years ago.

MISS VARDA CHRISTONE.
Wants American to Love Her—752 Proposals From Titled Foreigners.

New York, June 25.—Miss Varda Christone, who has been proposed to by 752 members of the nobility of Europe, today is on her way to her father's home in Neenah, Wis., to find a real American man who can give her something more than Vesuvius love when she marries. She arrived in New York on the Italian liner Duca d'Aosta from Florence, Italy, where she has been spending the past two years studying languages and music.

"I suppose I have received an average of three proposals a day from counts, barons, dukes and princes since I first went to Florence," said she, with a musical twist to her words caused by her long absence from English-speaking people. "I can't say that I found it particularly amusing. Why, a proposal from a baron became a mere incident of a day, to be forgotten entirely within the week. It's terrible the way they try to inveigle American girls into alliances."

"Italy is the land of love—all love—love as fiery as Vesuvius. I do not like that kind—I want the love of an American, love that I can depend upon to last forever without scorching me for a time and then leaving me wounded and forgotten."

"The American girl who marries a title becomes a slave. She has to conform to old-established customs that have no meaning; has to obey her husband in every way, and is generally nothing more than her husband's bank account. She'd far better marry some good American clerk in Hicksville. She'd be much happier if she does."

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 26, 1915.

A familiar argument regarding the Lusitania massacre was thus phrased by Former Congressman Vollmer at the Bryan peace meeting in New York: "I can, for example, cross a street in which there is a shooting affray against which I have been warned. But the danger remains that one of the gun heroes may seek cover behind me and that I myself may be struck by a bullet of the other. The best solution is for me to travel another way." It occurs to us that the best solution is to arrest and punish severely anybody who gives notice that he is going to engage in a shooting match in the streets. In such a case as Mr. Vollmer supposes, the gunman who killed a peaceable citizen would be adjudged guilty of murder the same as if he had hit his target, for that is the law. It is a queer doctrine that neutral citizens should keep off the streets or the high seas because desperadoes make threats.

Up to the time Bryan resigned he was regarded by all the pro-German sympathizers in this country as a tool of England. It had been whispered about that his daughter married an Englishman and that the latter in some way controlled his father-in-law. We have even heard the belief expressed that certain State papers which Bryan signed were written in London. Now, all of a sudden, when Bryan has betrayed his country, the pro-Germans discover that, after all, he is "this patriot who has come into this German atmosphere." President Wilson also has been held up as a tool of King George, and the American press in general has been accused of being "bought with British gold." There is food for thought in this on the part of those of our citizens whose German blood makes them see everything through colored and distorted spectacles. They are no more mistaken in the one thing than in the others. Public opinion in this country is no more influenced by British pounds than by German marks. We advise those who think differently to educate themselves by attempting to buy the opinions of any newspaper of prominence.

We have refrained from expressing any opinion as to whether Leo M. Frank was guilty of the murder of Mary Phagan or not. Such an opinion would be worthless unless preceded by a careful study of the many thousands of pages of testimony and some knowledge of the character of the man himself. Governor Slaton has done this work and reached a conclusion as to his duty. As a result, Frank is to be imprisoned for life. That ought to be punishment enough for any man, even if guilty, and far too much if he is possibly innocent. In these days, when good soldiers are being mowed down by the hundred thousand without being guilty of any offense, the life or death of one man is of no great consequence in comparison. The serious feature of the situation is that civilization seems to have broken down in Georgia. Governor Slaton is in danger of death from mobs. Just because he has done his duty as he saw it he has been changed from a political idol into a hunted creature. A secret society has been organized for the one purpose of "avenging" the murdered girl without being particular whether vengeance is visited on the innocent or guilty. Such a situation is unthinkable in any Northern State. We do not doubt the truth of the theory of the late Dr. Woodruff that the white race cannot persist in the Southern belt of our country without degenerating.

It is well to take all war news with a grain of salt. It seems to be more unreliable now than heretofore, which is saying much. A little while ago, we read that the last body of German reserves had been called to the front and that Germany could get no more soldiers until the boys of the country grew up, but now comes a despatch declaring that she will put 720,000 fresh troops into the field next month. A few days ago we were informed that the Russian troops in Galicia were retreating in disorder, having practically no ammunition, but now comes despatches declaring that they have rallied and have pushed their pursuers back, capturing large numbers of them. Very wonderful, if true. These are but samples of the current war news. The newspapers and news agencies are doing the best they can, but the censors make their efforts ineffective. We have to print what we can get. Discriminating readers can form a general idea of what is going on by balancing one exaggeration against another. It appears to us that neither side has made important progress this spring. The capture of this or that town amounts to almost nothing. The only way to win is to destroy the opposing army. If the Teutonic allies took Paris or the other allies took Berlin it would settle nothing if the strength of neither army were seriously impaired. The taking of prisoners and ammunition and the killing of soldiers are the things of importance.

WOMEN PROBATION OFFICERS.

(By Our Woman Editor.)
When the first woman probation officer was mildly suggested, there was a good-natured tendency to smile, but by and by the suggestion passed into reality and the smile merged into a nod of approval. And one is glad to note that cities are gradually waking up to the fact that this method of reform is intensely practical and human and very much needed.
When men transgress the law and are on the downward slide, morally, they need every atom of help that can be turned their way; and since the fate of a woman offender becomes rather harder, her need is all the greater. And it would seem that none but a woman could extend to women the manner of guidance needed to show the better way—provided, always provided, Nature gave her a depth of understanding, a comprehension of struggles foreign to her own, and the grace to look down into minds and hearts that have grown very turbulent.

Women higher up generally are the force back of such appointments, and wherever clubwomen are successful in influencing the naming of a probation officer, trained, and what is more important, "to the manner born," with time to devote and heart to give to the service of rescuing girls and women from dangerous paths they are just beginning to travel or the still broader ways of iniquity, they show colors fair and true and earn the thanks of all.
Every city needs someone to step between offenders and their own future, needs it for its own fair name as well as for the individuals themselves, and a woman interestedly working among wayward members of her own sex can surely render effective service in the counteracting of evil influences.

When a woman offends against the law she suffers not only the penalty of the law but the sometimes harder penalty of society, for it often is a question which is the more severe in its adherence to the strict letter of justice. If she can be spared something of the rigor or society's penalty and saved from the commission of a second offense, there is a better opportunity for her once more to look the world in the face.
If left to herself, with no friendly eyes turned toward her and no one to influence her on the upward rather than the downward way, what happens?
And beside, society itself is the purer, the safer for her protection.

And in the effort that women higher up in the social scale and truer to their own ideals, are making to look at life from the viewpoint of the more unfortunate, both sides are broadened and benefited. Women who are down to be helped up; and, unfortunately, women who stand firmly on their own feet and are at peace with their own conscience many, many times need the inspiration and understanding that comes with a look beyond their own immediate horizon.
It is one of the things that women who aim at service and at recognition as being worth while in the world's activities and usefulness must learn and learn thoroughly—to get away from narrow, preconceived judgments that should be outlived by this time. That tradition makes a woman offender supreme, with little hope of ever getting back to the light of recognition as one who is honestly trying to live out her years in an honorable way and working for a chance for redemption in the mind of her public.

And while women are helping others, if they bring sincerity and sympathy to the task they are strengthening themselves along lines that call for broadening; and every move they make is another step forward.
It is through such efforts as this that clubwomen have demonstrated to scoffers their sincerity of purpose; and wherever a club is found true to its avowed aim of becoming a beneficent social force, it merits and receives support in its movements for betterment.
And the more, when it reaches out to help bedraggled femininity.

Did "Colored Lady" Carry Razor in Her Stocking?

"I used to carry beer home to her until my husband made me stop and since then she has done nothing but make trouble for me," said a "lady of color" this morning in recorder's court as she appeared to press the complaint she had lodged with Recorder Lang on Friday regarding a "white lady" who lives in the near vicinity but not on the same street. Both women are no strangers in recorder's court, where they have appeared before.

"According to the story of the 'lady of color' her erstwhile white friend got angry at her when she refused to go to the saloon and bring her home a 'bucket of beer,' and has started a number of stories in circulation regarding the 'colored lady's' character.

"I never said any such thing," interrupted the white lady as she jumped to her feet. She continued to inform the recorder that since she had last appeared before him she had tried to live at peace with her neighbors and all who had once been her enemies were now her friends. "This here woman," said she, pointing to the colored woman, "is in trouble with everybody."

"I am not," interrupted the colored woman.
"Yes, you are and I got witnesses to prove it," retorted the white woman. Turning to the recorder she said that the other night the colored woman had a sharp razor which she carried in her stocking and she followed two other black women and threatened to cut out their hearts.

"I did not," interrupted the colored woman.
"You did so and I got witnesses to prove it," replied the white woman.

From then on accusations were exchanged back and forth between the women until finally Recorder Lang interrupted the flood of oratory to remark that he expected them to live at peace and that they should leave each other alone. He warned them that if they ever were brought before him that he would not let them off with a fine but would send them to jail.

ULSTER GRADUATES ITS BANNER CLASS

Twenty-eight graduates received their diplomas at the thirty-fifth annual, and last, commencement exercises of Ulster Academy held in the auditorium of the new high school on Friday evening. Seventeen of the class graduated with honor and three with honorable mention. The class of 1915 was not only the last senior class to be graduated but also the banner class in scholarship of old U. A.

The large auditorium was filled with the relatives and friends of the graduates and the commencement speakers had been carefully selected and their orations and essays upheld the high traditions of the old academy. Besides the members of the class there were seated on the stage members of the board of education, the faculty of the academy and clergymen of the city. Principal Arthur O. Bridgman of the academy presided and introduced the speakers. The music was furnished by Muller's orchestra. The motto of the class was "No Victory Without Labor."

After the invocation had been pronounced by the Rev. A. K. Fuller, pastor of the Wurts Street Baptist Church, the first speaker of the evening, Bernard A. Culliton, the president of the class, was introduced and delivered a fine oration on "The Problem of the Immigrant." This was one of the most vital questions confronting the country today. The first immigration of which the speaker found any record was in the year 1820 when a quarter of a million came to our shores. Of that number Great Britain and Ireland furnished the largest number of immigrants with Germany second and France third. Down to the year 1902 Germany led in the number of immigrants coming to this country.

The speaker gave interesting figures showing the gradual change in the character of the immigrants coming from the old world to America and said that immigration was mainly due to the over-growth of the population of the old world and the greater opportunities offered to the wage earners. He believed that the problem could best be solved by the enacting of laws restraining immigration to the desirable classes and the instilling of American ideals into the minds and hearts of the children of the immigrants.

Miss Beulah E. Kittle delivered a well written essay on "Service" the golden key that opens the portal to happiness. Each one has a niche to fill in this world and each one should strive to learn what occupation or profession they were best fitted for. The musician, the artist, the architect, the poet and the author all performed a service for their fellow man and by their work made the world a brighter and better place to live. It was only by service that life was made worth while. All men could not do great things in this world but all men could perform some service that would help to make the world better.

Fred F. Lockwood's oration "A Vision" was another powerful piece of work. The speaker told of the vision of William Langhorn of the drama of life. On the one hill was the tower of truth and on the other hill was the tower of falsehood and in the plain that lay between the hills were the multitude some fighting their way toward the tower of truth and others drifting toward the tower of falsehood. This was Langhorn's vision of life and the speakers compared the vision to present day conditions with America as the tower of truth and the old world in the turmoil of war as the tower of falsehood.

Miss Edna Silverstein's essay "A Plea for Minor People" was one of the best delivered essays of the evening. The world was made up of major and minor people, some filled great places in the world and others were hardly ever heard about but it should be remembered that it was the minor people that kept the world moving, that furnished our armies with men and kept the wheels of industry moving.

In his oration, "The Lure of Gold," Ross K. Osterhoudt said that more lives were lost in the pursuit of gold than in anything else, but gold will never cease to lure and debauch men. The evils rampant in the world were due to this seeking of wealth and only when all men learned the truth that gold was the root of all evil would the lure of gold cease to attract men.

Miss Harriet Church in her essay "The Poets' World" said that every one should love poetry and that every poem should please somebody. She quoted examples of some of the work of the poets that had helped to make the world better. People should not only read good poetry for the educational advantage derived but for the joy a fine poem imparted.

The greatest example of religious poetry said the speaker was the Twenty-third Psalm. Miss Church had a very pleasing voice and her delivery was exceptionally good.

Miss Eleanor E. Cooper's essay, "The Garden," showed careful thought and a true appreciation of flowers. To have a beautiful garden one must have a love for flowers and not simply plant them because your neighbor has a garden or because it is the style to have gardens. The English are lovers of gardens and they think of their gardens as companions and not as toys. The Chinese are more interested in the grouping of the flowers than the raising of them and they teach their children to arrange them most artistically. The Chinese believe in well proportioned grouping of the flowers and the other nations are beginning to realize that artistic grouping adds much to the appearance of a garden. When man was created he was placed in a garden and now men return to the garden as a respite from care.

"What Shall We Read?" was the subject of the oration delivered by Charles Kerr Sibley, the valedictorian of the class. He said that no shelf of books is complete without the Bible. Other books that should find a place on our shelves were those written by Homer, Virgil, Shakespeare, Milton, Addison, De Foe, Oliver, Goldsmith and Burns.

He illustrated his oration with quotations from the authors named. At the close of his address he delivered the valedictory address.

The Prize Winners.

The judges of the speaking were the Rev. A. S. Cole, Mr. Andrews, and Miss Herbert, and they made the following awards:

First prize for boys, $5 in gold, presented by Fred J. Walter, was awarded to Ross K. Osterhoudt.
Second prize for boys, a three volume set of Shakespeare, presented by William C. DeWitt, was awarded to Charles Kerr Sibley.
First prize for girls, $5 in gold, presented by Edward C. Coykendall, was awarded to Miss Edna Silverstein.

Second prize for girls, a two volume set of Lorna Doone, presented by William C. DeWitt, was awarded to Miss Harriet Church.

The English honor prize offered by A. Wesley Thompson, was awarded to Miss Beulah E. Kittle, who during her four years had an average of 94.85 per cent.
The essay prize offered by Miss Harriet C. Parker, for the best written essay, was awarded to Ross K. Osterhoudt.

The honors of the class were as follows:

The highest honor, Charles Kerr Sibley.
The English honor, Miss Beulah E. Kittle.
The essay honor, Ross K. Osterhoudt.

The Banner Class.

President Bridgman in turning the class over to President William C. DeWitt, of the board of education, said that he would be remiss in his duties if he did not mention the fact that this class was the banner class of old Ulster Academy. He said that 60 per cent of the class graduated with honor, having an average of 85 per cent or more in the four years of study and many had averaged over 90 per cent. Seventy-one per cent of the class had secured 80 per cent or more in their studies. This speaks well for the traditions of the old school.

President DeWitt spoke briefly of the history of the old school before he presented the members of the class with their diplomas. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. John J. Hickey.

The Class of 1915.

Those who graduated with honor are:

Higgins & Seiter Liquidation Sale.

The liquidation sale of Higgins & Seiter is an event unprecedented in the history of affairs of this kind. It has been stated over the signature of the manager for the trustee, William S. Anthes, that every statement as to values made in the newspapers is absolutely true, therefore our readers we can safely assure if they require china and glassware to purchase it from this well known house, as the merchandise they offer is of the highest quality and exclusive and is sold at prices averaging wholesale cost.

Stickley's Craftsman Furniture.

Every reader of The Freeman will be pleased to hear that the recent financial reverses that overtook Gustave Stickley and the Craftsman Building—38th and 39th street—New York, have been successfully overcome, and that his present sale of Craftsman furniture prior to the reorganization, means that under the new plan of operation he will be equipped as he never has been to carry out his truly original ideas of architecture and designing and furnishing on a broader and better scale than ever. He will have a free hand to grow and develop and every reader of this paper will wish him God-speed in his new organization, for the success of his plans means better homes and better furnishings and all around better living conditions.

Two Recitals by Pupils.

The pupils of Professor William H. Kiser will give two recitals during the coming week. The junior and intermediate class recital will be given on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the senior class recital on Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Take Notice.

Trip of the steamer W. F. Romer from Kingston to New York on Monday, June 28, has been cancelled. There will be no steamer on this line for New York on that date.

CLOSE RACE CERTAIN

Season in Major Leagues Promises to Be Successful One.

Boston Braves Are Sure to Put Up Bold Front in National League—Boston Red Sox Touted as Winners in American.

Contrary to winter expectation the baseball season in the major leagues now promises to be a very successful one. A great many critics during the off season were full of fearful predictions that baseball was going into a state of desuetude and that public interest was rapidly waning. It is now believed this may have been a wrong diagnosis, for there is more than the average enthusiasm shown, and the sport is evidently in for a big year. The Reds have made practically no inroads on the clubs of organized ball and the strong teams are intact and capable of putting up a hard battle for the flags in the two big leagues. The race in each of the majors promises to be exceptionally close, which will add to the interest.

The fight for the pennant in the National league should be a good one, with the Boston Braves, present world's champions, as the natural favorites. The Braves have been slightly strengthened by the addition of Sherwood Magee in the outfield and are very sure to put up a bold front in their effort to make it two straight championships. They do not, however, appear to outclass the field to any great extent. The Giants seem to be the next best, with the St. Louis Cardinals having quite a chance to come through. These three clubs look to be the best in the league at the get-away. But baseball is full of surprises, as the Braves conclusively proved in 1914, and some dark horse is likely to crop up and set the dope all awry.

The American league is likely to have a much closer race than usual, owing to the break-up of the Athletics, who are no longer considered to have a walk-over, though Connie Mack is pretty sure to have his club right in the fight all the way.

The Boston Red Sox are touted as the most likely winners of the flag. They look very good and should have a fine chance. Most of the strength of the American league seems to lie in the East this season, with the Athletics, Boston and Washington as the best-appearing outfits. Detroit is too weak in the box to make much of a showing, and it is hardly likely that the Chicago White Sox will develop the steadiness to cut in strongly for the highest honors, while both Cleveland and the Browns lack the class.

Conditions in the minor leagues are improving very rapidly. The minors were badly injured by the Reds last year, but that stage is about over, and there is sure to be a big revival of interest in the smaller leagues before long.

All leagues are cutting down on the number of players to be carried, which works hardships on many performers, but which was only a natural result of the activities of the Reds. During the year it is expected that the conditions will settle down to their former substantial basis, and the season is bound to be a great improvement on that of 1914.

TIRED OF PLAYING ON BENCH

Armando Marsans Wants to Play With St. Louis Cardinals Until Court Ruling is Handed Down.

Armando Marsans is tired of the bench and has asked to be allowed to play somewhere. He is said to have requested that he be permitted to play with the Cardinals until a court ruling

Armando Marsans, is handed down. He will then go where the court decrees. The Cuban's toil at present consists of an hour's practice every day at the Terriers' park.

Brainerd is Fast. Brainerd is the fastest man on the New York team, not even excepting George Burns, who is a corking base runner. The young first baseman looks like a very promising performer. He is a second sacker by trade, but is picking up the points of first-base play very rapidly. He seems to be quite a find.

Release Young Battery. Manager Jennings let out a young battery in Pitcher Smithson and Catcher Peters, both to be returned at the end of the season. Peters went to Chattanooga and Smithson to Scranton.

Precoctity. Precoctity may be defined as a form of premature mental development that is instanced when a child five years old has learned that the drumstick is not the best part of a turkey gobbler. —Houston Post.

GENTLEMANLY GEORGE NOW LOOKING FOR A JOB.

George Wiltse, one time heavier for the Giants and more recently manager of the Jersey City International Club, is now looking for a job, having been deposed from his managerial position after the "Skeeters" took an awful slump. It is charged that Wiltse was too much of a gentleman to make a good manager. He did not have the heart to give a player a call down.

CHOOSING MUTTON.

Rules to Guide Those Who Want to Be Careful Buyers.

Mutton is generally considered the most healthful meat and is eaten by many to the exclusion of any variety, consequently great care should be exercised in the selection, and a little time should be given to the study of quality.

In buying mutton or lamb care should be taken to see that the fat is clear, hard and white, as mutton with soft or yellow fat indicates too long a stay in cold storage. It might appear that a great quantity of fat on mutton signifies waste, but the lean part is much juicier and more tender when this is the case, so the wise housewife makes purchases with this in view.

The leg has the least fat in proportion to weight. Next comes the shoulder. The color of lean mutton is a deep red.

Lamb is good to eat when a year old and is much more digestible than other immature meat, such as veal or young pork. The wise housewife knows the value of nutrition, so she will hesitate about buying lamb merely because it is in the market, as it is generally expensive.

The meat of spring lamb should be a clear pink, with plenty of pure white fat.—New York Sun.

UNGRATEFUL RAGAN HELPS BEAT TEAM WHICH DROPPED HIM.

Pat Ragan, when he was with the Brooklyn National team, used to be at the bottom of the list in batting averages. In short Ragan looked like a complete flivver. So he was dropped by the Superbas and picked up by the Boston Braves. The other day Ragan got his revenge, by accounting two of the three runs which the Braves scored to Brooklyn's 3, thus winning the game. He also beat Dell in a pitching duel.

FIRST ARMY MEDAL.

It Was Issued After Cromwell Defeated the Scots in 1650.

The first medal issued as a reward for military service was struck by order of parliament to celebrate a victory of English troops over the Scotch. When the news reached London that Cromwell had defeated the Scots at Dunbar on Sept. 3, 1650, the house of commons instructed Thomas Simon, chief engraver to the mint, to proceed to Edinburgh and design a medal in honor of the event, of which a leading feature should be a portrait of the victorious general.

The result was a lifelike portrait of Cromwell in profile, and over his head is engraved the battle cry of his iron-sides, "The lord of hosts." On the reverse there is a wonderful representation in miniature of the house of commons in session. This medal was given to all officers and privates alike who fought in Scotland, but this democratic practice was discontinued till revived in 1815 at the suggestion of the Duke of Wellington for the troops under his command at Waterloo.—London Telegraph.

ROGER BRESNAHAN

BRESNAHAN HAS A SYSTEM—HONOR SYSTEM.

Roger Bresnahan, manager of the Cubs, has at last given to the world the secret of his success. He has a system, as all managers have, but Roger's system sounds more like that practiced in a state penitentiary or a college, than of the baseball field.

Hark to the words of the wise Roger.

"I handle my men on the honor system. I don't make a watch dog out of myself to see that the fellows are in their rooms at a certain hour each night. They know and understand that they must be in perfect shape to play baseball and earn their money, and they realize that they must keep training rules to be in shape. Therefore, I rely on their sense of duty to their employers."

"What the men do off the field is none of my business just as long as what they do does not impair their work on the field. But what they do on the diamond is decidedly my business."

All this sounds extremely good, but it's hard to conceive of twenty-one ball players adhering to the honor system. Anyway Roger and his bunch of "honor" boys will bear watching as an interesting experiment.

Daily Thought. Too austere philosophy makes few wise men; too vigorous politics, few good subjects; and too hard a religion, few religious persons whose devotion is of long continuance.—St. Evremont.

THE REALTY MIRROR

The Want Columns of this newspaper are the best mirror of the realty market. All the best things in buying, selling, renting or exchanging, are to be found carefully listed among the ads in The Freeman Want Columns.

No matter whether you are in the market to get a house, or dispose of the one you have, use The Freeman Want Ads, for they work to perfection both ways. The fee is a mere trifle, the return is large and June is the time to buy, rent, sell, or exchange, realty of all kinds.

FAMOUS FRENCH COLONIALS AT THE SALUTE. The picture shows the third company of the Eritrean Colonials, now of the French firing line, saluting their commander. These colonial troops have fought with much spirit for the mother country, and have shown particular bravery in charging the German trenches. They were used in the fighting north of Arras, and were among the French troops which finally succeeded in driving the Germans out of the famous Labyrinth.

NOTABLES AT YALE COMMENCEMENT

MANY NOTABLES IN LINE AT YALE COMMENCEMENT.

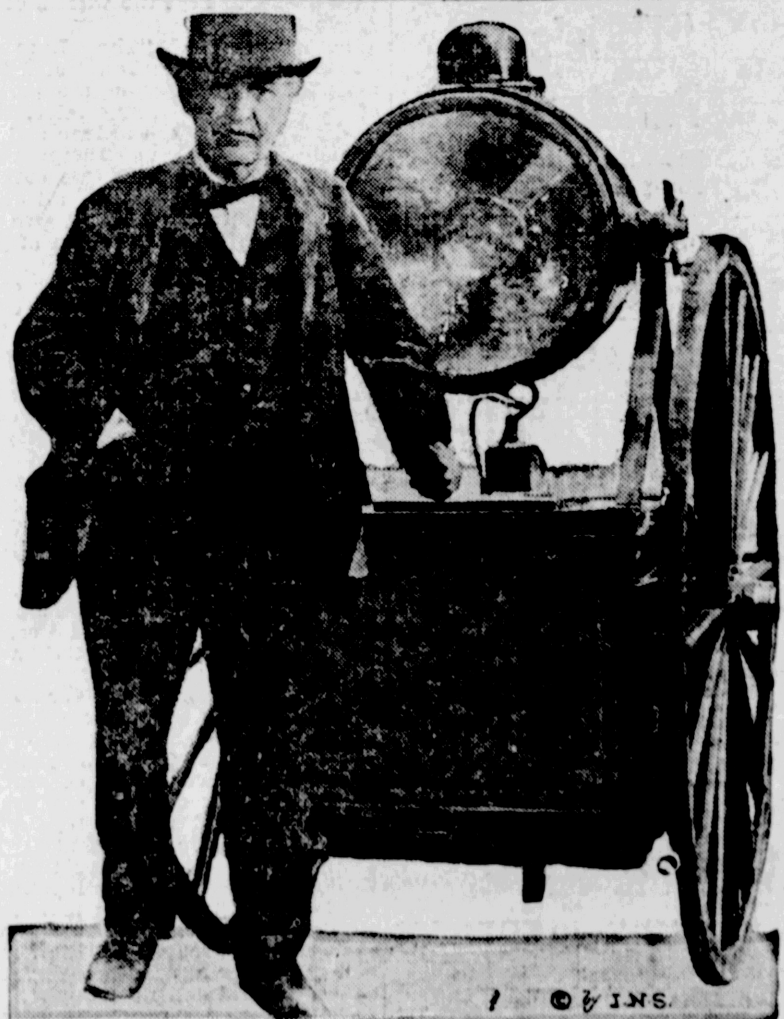

The picture shows a part of the academic procession to Woolsey Hall, at Yale's 215th commencement nt. Leading the procession is Professor James C. Schwab, the mace bearer. Following him in order are President Bradley, former President Timothy Dwight, William H. Taft, Ken, Professor Law; Justice Charles E. Hughes, made Doctor of Laws, and Dr. Charles Wardell Stiles, discoverer of the hook worm cure, made a Doctor of Science. The university conferred only sixty honorary degrees in all, out of a total of 762 conferred this year.

Cooling Water Without Ice. To cool water without using ice get a slender glass test tube from any drug store. Half fill it with nitrate of ammonia salts, fill up with water, cork tightly. Shake till the salt is dissolved. Be careful to wipe the outside of the tube dry in order that all traces of the nitrate may be removed. Place this tube into a glass of water and agitate as you would with a spoon. The water is rapidly chilled. The nitrate of ammonia salts can be bought at any chemist's.

SWAT just one fly— Kill millions, maybe. You whack a pest And save a baby.

Old Time Butterscotch. Put three pounds of light brown sugar in an enameled kettle with three-fourths of a pound of butter. Place over a moderate fire to melt; let it boil until thick, stirring all the while to prevent scorching. Take the kettle from the fire and pour the boiling hot liquid into buttered tins or upon a large flat meat platter. When stiff enough mark off into big squares, and when cold break these apart and wrap each square in wax paper. Butterscotch carefully made will keep for months. It improves with age.

Naturally. "Many of the patrons of a popular photographer must make his plates suffer." "Why do you think so?" "Aren't his plates sensitive?"—Baltimore American.

THOMAS H. EDISON & NEW SEARCHLIGHT. LATEST INVENTION OF THE "WIZARD OF ORANGE."

Edison and New Searchlight. That old age has not impaired the inventive genius of Thomas A. Edison is proved by the fact that he recently startled the citizens of Orange, N. J., where he lives, by demonstrating his latest invention, a portable searchlight capable of throwing a ray of light of 3,000,000 candle power. The storage batteries from which the light gets its power are quite light and can be carried on the little truck as shown in the picture. The light is one of the most powerful ever built and will find a great use in lighthouses, and especially on boats, where its portability will make it a great convenience. The inventor is shown standing at the side of the light.

ADVERTISEMENT WRITING.

"WATCHFUL waiting" does not bring home the business; it requires persistent "acquiring" with ammunition such as my wording of advertisements, booklets, circulars, etc., to bring home the business. My terms are reasonable. I am not "tied to" any one store or branch of business. I write advertising and show results for all who seek my services and are willing to do their share toward business betterment. George M. Zellmer, care of Kingston Freeman.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The steamer Messenger which plies between Rondout and Saugerties will not be on the route on Monday as it will take an excursion from Hudson to the boat races at Poughkeepsie that day.

William R. Harrison's Bible class of St. James's M. E. Sunday school will hold a picnic at Kingston Point Park Wednesday afternoon and evening, June 30. Every member is urged to be present.

Kingston Lodge, No. 10, Free and Accepted Masons, will observe St. John's Day on Sunday, when the members will attend service at St. James's Methodist Episcopal Church in a body. The address will be by the Rev. T. H. Baragwanath, pastor of the church. The lodge has invited Kingston Chapter, No. 155, and Clinton Chapter, No. 445, Order of the Eastern Star, also to attend the service.

A number of young people from this city and adjoining towns enjoyed a most delightful picnic at Shady Nook, Springtown, on the Walkkill, Friday. The party, chaperoned by Mrs. Adeline Strick of Kingston, consisted of the Misses Elizabeth Lowe and Catherine Humphrey of this city, the Misses Ruth and Lillian Tooker of New Salem, the Misses Mildred and Genevieve Tooker, Thomas Waye, Peter Schick, Walter Snyder, Walter Riggins and Luther Tooker of Edenville; Ben Dudenhausen of St. Remy, Joe Crosby and Albert Crosby of New Paltz, Will Martin and Joe O'Callaghan of Brooklyn. The day was spent in playing games, rowing and bathing and at noon a sumptuous luncheon was spread. Following a short rest, the entire party walked to Rosendale, a distance of six miles, where they disbanded and went by train to their homes, tired but sorry that the happy day was over.

James Alonzo Purdy, formerly chief engineer of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, and one of the oldest members of the Marine Engineers' Association of New York, died on Thursday in the Sailors' Snug Harbor on Staten Island. Mr. Purdy was born at Marlborough seventy-five years ago.

Charles Brown, aged 36 years, died at St. Mary's Hospital, Hoboken, Monday afternoon of typhoid fever. The remains were brought to the home on his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brown, west of Marlborough, on Tuesday for funeral and interment. He is survived by his parents, two brothers, Fred and Edward, and two sisters, Mrs. Alonzo Cassels and Mrs. David Mullin. Four sons also survive. For several years he was second mate on the steamer Hendrick Hudson.

Harry Ormsby, aged 33 years, the only son of Mrs. Julia Ormsby of Marlborough died on Thursday evening after a lingering illness at the home of his mother. He was a well known newspaper man, having been one of the editors of the New York Herald for some time before his illness compelled him to relinquish his position. He went to Marlborough two months ago in hopes that he would be benefited by the change. He is survived by his widow, his mother, and one sister, Mrs. Frederick Schramm.

On Friday afternoon the Sunday school room of the Trinity M. E. Church was the scene of a pleasing piano recital, given by the pupils of Miss Mabel Baisden, assisted by Miss Anna Cassler, reader, and Miss Ethel Knapp, soprano. The room was prettily decorated with daisies and buttercups and ferns. At the appointed hour, Miss Baisden welcomed the guests to this, the first recital given by her pupils. The program was as follows:

Wheat—July 1.03 1/2; September 1.01 1/2; December 1.05.

Corn—July 73c bid; September 71c @ 7/8; December 63 1/2c.

If This Is Your Birthday

JUNE 26

The woman of this birthdate is inclined to be fickle and inconstant. She loves show, dress and excitement and is quite unwilling to settle down into a domestic life which offers little pleasure.

People of this birthdate are governed by the Moon and this planet explains somewhat this changing fickle nature.

The mind is exceedingly well balanced. It has power of application, is analytical, intuitive and keen. This person should take up the study of the occult and the later metaphysics and be guided by their spiritual intuition.

The feminine mind gives talent to write, to act, to express brilliantly in outward form the inspiration from within. The men of this birthdate are mechanical, inventive and fond of travel and discovery.

The birthstone is a black onyx. The Freeman Want Ads will recover lost articles. Property may be sold to advantage this coming week if well advertised in the Freeman Want Ads.

SOCIETY NOTES.

This morning the choir girls and the members of this year's graduating class of St. Mary's School were the guests of the Rev. John J. Hickey at Orange Lake. The excursionists made the trip down the river on the steamer Odell.

Judge and Mrs. G. D. B. Hasbrouck and Dr. and Mrs. George Chandler gave a country dance at Napanoch on Friday evening. About thirty-five guests motored out to Nordan Hall, which had been prettily decorated for the occasion with mountain laurel. Picnic refreshments were unpacked from hamper at midnight and the party motored home by moonlight at a late hour.

A number of young people from this city and adjoining towns enjoyed a most delightful picnic at Shady Nook, Springtown, on the Walkkill, Friday. The party, chaperoned by Mrs. Adeline Strick of Kingston, consisted of the Misses Elizabeth Lowe and Catherine Humphrey of this city, the Misses Ruth and Lillian Tooker of New Salem, the Misses Mildred and Genevieve Tooker, Thomas Waye, Peter Schick, Walter Snyder, Walter Riggins and Luther Tooker of Edenville; Ben Dudenhausen of St. Remy, Joe Crosby and Albert Crosby of New Paltz, Will Martin and Joe O'Callaghan of Brooklyn. The day was spent in playing games, rowing and bathing and at noon a sumptuous luncheon was spread. Following a short rest, the entire party walked to Rosendale, a distance of six miles, where they disbanded and went by train to their homes, tired but sorry that the happy day was over.

Veelbe-Esper.

Leonard F. Veelbe of Brooklyn and Miss Minnie Espey of Saugerties were married on Friday afternoon

Hensley-Schneider.

Henry Frederick Hensley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hensley of Marlborough, and Miss Rose F. Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schneider of Congers, were married on Sunday by the Rev. N. Jansen of Nanuet.

Rhodes-Lyons.

Carl A. Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rhodes of West Marlborough, and Miss Melissa Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ensign Lyons of Milton, were married in St. John's parsonage at Newburgh on Sunday by the Rev. Arthur Thompson. They were attended by Miss Hilda Rhodes, a sister of the groom, and William Elgee.

Pleasant Recital.

On Friday afternoon the Sunday school room of the Trinity M. E. Church was the scene of a pleasing piano recital, given by the pupils of Miss Mabel Baisden, assisted by Miss Anna Cassler, reader, and Miss Ethel Knapp, soprano. The room was prettily decorated with daisies and buttercups and ferns. At the appointed hour, Miss Baisden welcomed the guests to this, the first recital given by her pupils. The program was as follows:

March—Trio. Goederle, Elmer, Ethel and Mildred Douglas.

Selection in Waltz. Armand The First Waltz. Schmolli.

Syrienne. Miriam Cassler. Behr.

Ethel Douglas.

Dolly's Funeral. Tschalkowsky.

Waltz. Leona Dixon.

Song of the Boatmen. Webb.

Clover Waltz. Lela Murdock.

Up in the Swing. Barbour.

Readings. Victor Snyder.

Selected. Miss Cassler.

Curly Locks Waltz. Lynne.

Lela Murdock, Thelma Durr.

Rank and File. Lange.

Elmer Douglas.

Waltz, Arranged by Maylath. Chopin.

Mazurka. Helen Smith.

The Light of Spring. Barbour.

Always Good Natured. Giese.

Duet, Danse Bohemienne. Schott.

Misses Mildred Keough and Lillian Fleming.

Reading. Miss Cassler.

The Robin's Return. Fisher.

Miss Mildred Keough.

A La Bein Almee. Schutt.

Miss Lillian Fleming.

Tender Message. Schaffer.

Butterfly Dance. Schaffer.

Miss Cornelia Van Wageningen.

Mazurka. Mildred Douglas.

Vocal Solo—

The Spirit Flower; In the Time of Roses.

Miss Knapp.

Duet, Reve De Bonheur. Eggleston.

Mildred and Elmer Douglas.

The majority of the pupils, including many of the littlest musicians, played with notes. Each one of the pupils performed so nicely that it would be indeed unfair to discriminate, although a few of the players showed unusual talent. The readings by Miss Cassler were exceedingly enjoyable and the vocal numbers by Miss Knapp, accompanied by Miss Baisden, were admirably rendered. Miss Knapp has a very excellent and pleasing voice. At the close of the recital, the pupils presented their teacher with a large and very handsome bouquet of carnations. The entire program bespoke earnest and faithful work on the part of both teacher and pupils.

In Special Term.

In special term of supreme court held at the court house this morning the case of Mary Kirk Law against Edwin Law, an undisputed action for divorce, was heard. Testimony was taken and Judge Hasbrouck reserved decision. Both parties reside in Albany. Humboldt M. Schlesinger of Albany appeared for Mrs. Law.

In the matter of Honey Krom against Hannah Rose and others, Judge Hasbrouck signed an order appointing John T. Cahill referee to compute amount due and a judgment for divorce was granted. V. B. Van Wageningen appeared for plaintiff.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, June 26.—So many "bear" stories have come from out of the camps of the five big crews at Poughkeepsie that the real situation is somewhat obscured and some big surprises may be looked for when the Hudson river battles are staged on Monday.

Columbia seems to be a slight favorite for the big varsity race not so much because Columbia is far superior to the four other crews but largely because the Columbia "bear" story manufacturer has not been turning out such pitiful sounding stuff as his rivals.

Cornell and Syracuse taking it from some of the early stories, ought to be objects for the Humane Society. Syracuse, we have been told, has no varsity crew—that is not a varsity crew of varsity standard. The eight men who make up the crew are to be pitied. Some are suffering from spavin, one or two have broken backs, another has lost an arm or two, and the balance have locomotor ataxia or something like that according to some of the Syracuse stories.

But it's a fairly safe bet that the bunch of Syracuse "cripples" will be considerably among those present from the time the starting gun is fired until the finish line lies in the wake of the winning boat.

Charles Courtney, the Cornell rowing wizard, has been pictured as tearing his hair and on the point of eating Paris green because of his "despair" over the Cornell varsity boatmen. Cornell, some folks have told us, hasn't any more chance of winning the big varsity event than Kaiser Bill has of dining at King George's house tomorrow evening. But the wise folks will keep their optics on Cornell—and many of them will bet on Cornell with a fair chance of winning.

It is true that the 1915 Cornell varsity boat contains only one veteran from the 1914 varsity. But Courtney can take a likely looking freshie and make an expert oarsman out of him in a year so it can be seen that the lack of veterans doesn't necessarily lessen Cornell's chances.

True, Cornell was beaten by Yale on May 15th in the Princeton regatta and again on May 23rd by Harvard on its own Navy Day doings. But this thing should be remembered! These races were short ones. They weren't over a four mile stretch, and it is in the long races—those that call for iron nerve and the limit of human endurance—that Courtney's crews usually are the peer of any outfit that pulls an oar.

"Watch Pennsylvania!" is the tip that is being passed out to those with betting instincts. Pennsylvania will bear watching. Last year few folks watched Pennsylvania until Pennsylvania shot along like a rifle bullet in the last half mile and by its amazing spurt nearly overhauled the winning Columbia outfit.

Pennsylvania was considered a rank outsider last year but it won't be such when the crews float up to the starting line this year. The Pennsylvania crew will be heavily backed in the betting and probably will be second choice. Pennsylvania has a crew this year that looks better than the 1914 crew—and that 1914 crew was quite a crowd.

Leland Stanford, the fifth entrant in the varsity classic, is the "dark horse." And because it is the "dark horse" and because it won't have an abundance of alumni or undergraduates here to root for it, it probably will be the favorite of the crowd that has no affiliations with the four other colleges.

The California squad has shown some real speed in the few workouts it has had since arriving in camp at Poughkeepsie. It is a powerful one of the huskiest that ever was boasted. It pulls a beautiful stroke, with mighty power, and if it isn't stricken with stage fright it might have a fighting chance for victory.

The chances are that Columbia will be the favorite for the varsity race with the betting at even money on Columbia against the favorite. But there is a large possibility that before Monday morning a shift in sentiment may come and Columbia may be pushed out of the favorite's position by Cornell or Pennsylvania.

Cornell has the best position for the varsity race—number 5—which is the fifth position from shore and out near the center of the channel where it is free from eddies.

Leland Stanford has entered only a varsity crew but the four other colleges each have entered boats in the freshmen eight oared races that will precede the big battle. These races will be rowed about 3:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon. The big varsity will be rowed about 6 p. m.

The two early races ought to furnish some real thrills. Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania, all have some great oarsmen among the freshmen and juniors and the Syracuse squads may surprise the folks by making these two battles four cornered affairs.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, June 26.—The twelfth annual reunion and dinner of the Ellenville High School Alumni Association was held at the Wayside Inn Thursday evening. It was an informal, but a very unique affair. The dinner was a progressive affair. The tables were placed to form the letters E. H. S., and plates laid for one hundred. The dinner was served at 8:30. The following menu was well served: Fruit compote, soup, tomato, broiled chickens, jelly, potatoes, salad (tomatoes, lettuce, celery, green peppers), crushed strawberries, ice cream, fancy cakes, coffee. There was no speech making and following the dinner a business session was held and officers for the ensuing year elected. Following the business session all present were privileged to enjoy a rare treat. The Rev. E. E. Count, D. D., and Mrs. Count in costume, gave a most excellent address or dialogue on Bulgaria of which country they are certainly familiar, having resided in that country about ten years. This new feature of entertainment was certainly enjoyed to the profit of all in attendance. Mance's orchestra furnished music for dancing, which followed, and was continued until the close of the reunion of 1915.

At the class reception held Wednesday evening Mrs. John H. Divine contributed a vocal solo and Miss Edith Wright was heard in recitation, and Mance's orchestra furnished music for dancing. The decorations of the large auditorium were banners of colleges and high school with a profusion of roses, the class flowers. Refreshments were served on small tables on the stage, while dancing was going on the auditorium below. It was said to have been one of the best receptions ever held, from many points of view.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Dayton and daughter, Miss Alice Dayton, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Dayton of Middletown called on Ellenville friends on Thursday. The party were returning from a delightful automobile trip without mishap. They left Middletown on Thursday the week before and went by way of Newburgh, the Storm King Mountain, over the river on to Hartford, Conn., through the Berkshires, returning by way of Rhinebeck, Kingston to Ellenville and home.

John R. Hunt with Alfred G. Catherwood as chauffeur, with Mrs. Bell and Miss Elizabeth Bell have gone on an automobile trip to Niagara Falls. They had reached Rochester on Thursday.

Miss E. M. Parsons of the Ellenville schools will with a party tour the west and will visit the exposition at Los Angeles during vacation.

Miss Gertrude Wyman of the Ellenville schools will open a summer school on Monday, June 28, in the new school building. Pupils are thus afforded an opportunity to make any deficiencies.

Miss Lurane B. Taylor expects to leave on Saturday to spend two weeks in New York city with Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Bunting at Lincoln Park, N. J.

Henry Parth, a native of Austria, who has had eight years experience at work in Berlin and three years in New York in photography, has taken a position in Porter's studio.

Mrs. Henry Schoerry of Brooklyn is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hebel.

Cashier Frank B. Hoornbeek and wife have returned from their wedding trip.

The Rev. H. P. Hobson, D. D., was in Kingston Thursday to attend a luncheon given by Archdeacon Pott to the clergy of the northern division of the archdiocese of Orange at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

Mrs. O. B. Seaman has arrived from Oberlin, Ohio, for the summer.

The Rev. George H. Smith of Pine Plains was in charge of the prayer service at the M. E. Church Wednesday evening and the Reformed Church Thursday evening.

Mrs. Rose H. Eaton of Ellenville and Mrs. Kate Broadhead of Cragmor are on a visit with friends in greater New York.

Mrs. Irving Ostrander has been in Rhinebeck this week for the graduation exercises of which class her nephew was a member.

There are to be three races on the Driving Park, Ellenville, on Monday, July 5. A free for all for a purse of $60, a 2:30 race for $60 and a matched race for $200 between Dr. Chase, owned by DeWitt Beach of High Falls, and Winsome Worthy, owned to Fred Brink of Stone Ridge. These two horses raced in Ellenville on Decoration Day and had a very close race. Winsome Worthy winning. Entrance fee is five per cent to close at nine o'clock the morning of the race. The People's Band will furnish music. John Burlison and R. D. Cookingham, managers.

Wrestling Match a Draw.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, June 26.—After struggling desperately for three hours and ten minutes in their championship bout at the Manhattan Opera House, Vladek Zbyszko, the Polish wrestling champion, and Alex Aberg, fell exhausted upon the mat early today. Neither had been able to gain a fall and the management asked the audience if they wished to have the bout continued. Spectators who were not asleep at the time agreed to call the match a draw.

Present Ambition.

About aiming high. An Atchison man aimed to have accumulated enough property by the time he was fifty to retire. He is not far from fifty now, and his consuming ambition is to have a week's salary in his pocket when he collects his wages for the next week. — Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

No "Skimping" Anywhere in the Chandler Light Six, $1295

CHANDLER reputation doesn't rest on the fact that this was the first light-weight six selling for less than $2000. It doesn't rest on the fact that the Chandler pioneered the light-six field when all the rest of the industry was insisting that sixes had to be high-priced and heavy. Chandler reputation rests primarily on the marvelous Chandler motor, Chandler comfort and economy and the fact that the Chandler has never been "skimped" either in quality of materials or character of equipment. Each part of the Chandler is as good as every other part, and the character of the whole car is reflected in its equipment. Now study this equipment. Note it carefully, item by item. Realize that each feature is first choice of its kind. Any two or three of the following equipment features found on the Chandler would make a "talking point" for the average car.

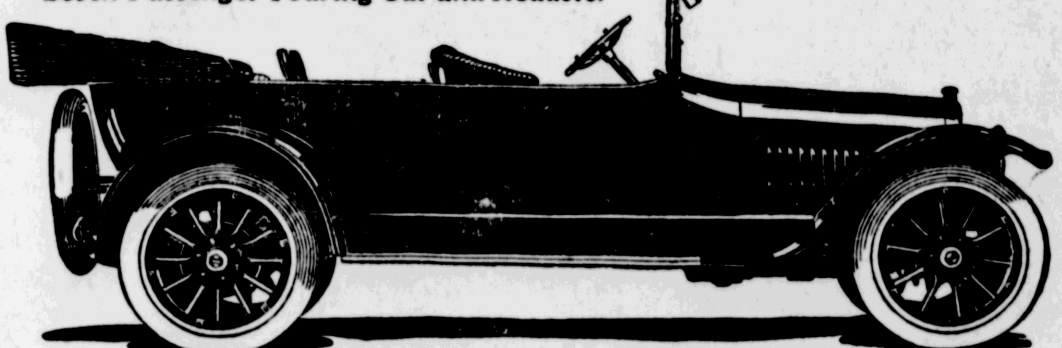

All of them are on the Chandler:

Bosch Magneto, admittedly the best ignition.
Gray & Davis Electric Starting Motor.
